Join this session as Blissful Coding Club provides an introduction to computer science and STEM geared towards students in grades 4 - 12. Working with Anusha Bansal, Founder, Blissful Us, and her team of volunteer-instructors from Carnegie Mellon University's Computer Science Academy and MIT, students will begin to build a working knowledge of computer coding during this session. Students need to have a gmail email account, working computer, internet, speaker, headphones, and the desire to learn!
